

PATA TRAVEL MART ■ SHOW DAILY 2007

The Indispensable Travel Industry Read

Travel

WEEKLY

Side Bar

Going the great distance for food

One of the most sought-after persons in the large number of Indian delegates at the mart has been Puneet Malhotra, who runs the very successful Queen's Tandoor in Bali.

His outdoor catering activity has propelled many a vegetarian delegate to look for the restaurant. Luckily, even the luncheons at the PTM have had his presence, with mouth-watering vegetarian dishes making the day for Indian food lovers, especially.

Puneet has been running the Queen's Tandoor since 1996 and is known for his non-vegetarian and vegetarian items. No wonder, he is much in demand both in his restaurant and for outdoor catering, in which he also has an expertise. Incidentally, even the normal meat eaters, rushed to sample his south Indian dishes at the lunch two days ago. ■

- By Anil Mathur

Travel

WEEKLY

Side Bar

Going the great distance for food

One of the most sought-after persons in the large number of Indian delegates at the mart has been Puneet Malholtra, who runs the very successful Queen's Tandoor in Bali.

His outdoor catering activity has propeled many a vegetarian delegate to look for the restaurant. Luckily, even the luncheons at the PTM have had his presence, with mouthwatering vegetarian dishes making the day for Indian food lovers, especially.

Puneet has been running the Queen's Tandoor since 1996 and known for his non-vegetarian and vegetarians item. No wonder, he is much in demand both in his restaurant and for outdoor catering, in which he aslso has expertise. Incidentally, even the normal meat eaters, rushed to sample his south Indian dishes at the lunch two day ago.

By Anil Mathur